

“The European Health Data Space: the potential of exchanging health data”

08th April 2021

10.30 – 11.30

The webinar aims to show how the European Health Data Space will improve access to and exchange of different types of health data (electronic health records, genomic data, data from patient registers), not only to support the delivery of health services (the so-called primary use of data) but also for the purpose of research and policy development in the health sector (the so-called secondary use of data).
